<sup>1</sup> ie any personal or business interest which may, or may be perceived (by a reasonable member of the public) to, influence their judgement. This should include, as a minimum, personal direct and indirect pecuniary interests. Indirect pecuniary interests arise from connections with bodies which have a direct pecuniary interest or from being a business partner of, or being employed by, a person with such an interest. Non-pecuniary interests include those arising from membership of clubs and other organisations.

<sup>2</sup> ie interests of close family members and of people living in the same household. Close family members include personal partners, parents, children (adult and minor), brothers, sisters and the personal partners of any of these.
