² ie interests of close family members and of people living in the same household. Close family members include personal partners, parents, children (adult and minor), brothers, sisters and the personal partners of any of these.
